

Inceiling Multiformat

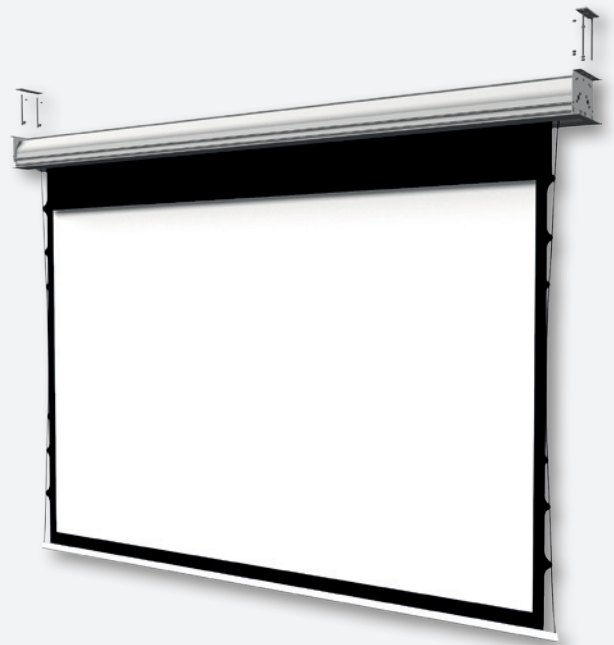

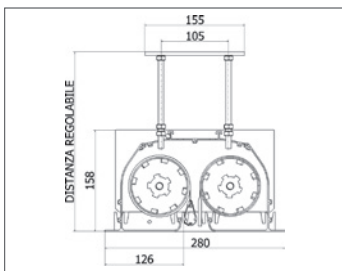

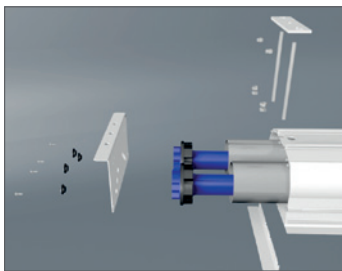

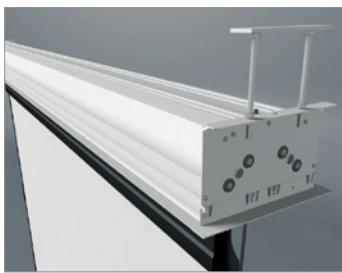

The multiformat technology becomes invisible.

Eight different screens in just one product which, when not in use, are completely hidden in the false ceiling. The high flatness tensioned fabric and the state-of-the-art control technology make it possible to obtain customized video formats by simply operating the remote control. Programming the remote control unit permits the lowering or the lifting of the screen and the adjustment of the formats at will with 5 cm precision.

The easy-cut system eases the cutting and mounting operations in the false ceiling.

The connectivity with home automation systems through door RS485 allows the realization of top-of-the-range installations.
